The Welcome Gate

As soon as they arrive at Wittenberg Railway Station, visitors will enter the area of the Welcome Gate. This is a lookout tower – built in the form of a book, and reminiscent of the Luther Bible. It offers a good view of city landmarks, as a prelude to the different offerings and topics in store during the Reformation Summer. It also invites you to revisit the Bible translation originally done by Luther and his colleagues, thanks to a newly revised edition due to appear in 2017.

The Globalization | One World Gate

Five hundred years ago, new ideas and discussions were already transforming societies in many parts of the world. The gate focusing on Globalization | One World encourages us to take this further with international participation in Wittenberg.

A landscape of transparent glass cubes, presenting a host of regional, national and international initiatives, gives a face to the globalized world and encourages dialogue.

The Spirituality Gate

The Spirituality Gate is located at the other side of Luther House – the building where Martin Luther lived and worked. It is an opportunity for visitors to reassess their own spirituality. Climbing up the green bunker embankment could be inspirational, evoking biblical mountain-top experience, and opening up a space between earth and heaven. A cruciscross of pathways invites visitors to pause, pray and meditate.

The Ecumenism and Religion Gate

The 500 trees of the Luther Garden form the centre of the sixth gate area. Christian churches and initiatives create spaces for encounters between the world religions. Prayer rooms, exhibitions and refreshment kiosks invite visitors to spend time here, and immerse themselves in a peaceful combination of cultures and traditions.

The World pays a visit to Wittenberg

When walking around the Gates of Freedom and Wittenberg itself – past the places where Martin Luther lived and worked – visitors will be able to reflect on Reformation issues of present-day relevance.

The World Reformation Exhibition will be open from 20 May to 10 September 2017, every day except Tuesdays, from 10am to 6pm. In addition, there will be a varied programme packed into 16 theme weeks all over the city – on stages and platforms, as well as in event tents and areas. Visitors are warmly welcome to take part in discussions, workshops and much more. Other special attractions are the asisi Panorama LUTHER 1517 and the exhibition on Luther and the Avant-garde.

The Youth Gate

A labyrinth made up of poles of different heights symbolizes the phase when young people seek orientation and try out all kinds of different things. Big (Christian) youth associations are working on a varied programme of activities. They want to create a space for discussions about the future, equality of opportunity and democracy – so this will also appeal to the young-at-heart.

The Ecumenism and Religion Gate

The seventh gate area offers visitors a varied programme at the interface between religion, art and culture. Various installations and dramatic presentations will express this reciprocal triangular relationship.

The Culture Gate

The 500 trees of the Luther Garden form the centre of the sixth gate area. Christian churches and initiatives create spaces for encounters between the world religions. Prayer rooms, exhibitions and refreshment kiosks invite visitors to spend time here, and immerse themselves in a peaceful combination of cultures and traditions.

Contributing, participating, being part of it!

If you would like more information on the theme weeks, specific programme details and much more, please go to www.r2017.org.

Perhaps you would like not just to be there but also to contribute actively to the programme. You are warmly invited to do so – whether as an exhibitor, artist or musician. We would be happy to talk to you personally about ways of participating: wittenberg@2017.org

All forms of support are welcome – whether as a company or individual, whether as an online donation or regular contribution. Check out different ways of giving at www.r2017.org/baureden.
